WHAT'S DIPLOMACY FOR?

Notions about the use of diplomacy differ. As Germany uses it, diplomacy is a means of lulling sucker nations into a false sense of security just before plunging home the murderous knife. As Great Britain uses it, diplomacy is a means of persuading two other fellows to get into a fight, or be on the verge of getting into a fight, so the British can continue to carry on business as usual.

In the main, the purpose of diplomacy is to accomplish something without belligerency. Except in the cases of overtly belligerent governments, like Germany under Hitler, diplomacy is primarily a preventive to ward off war; under Hitler it has been a prelude to war. In the United States, certainly, diplomacy has been looked upon as the alternative to war. Diplomats have been held in higher regard than soldiers. There has been deep faith in the conference table.

Perhaps this explains what is wrong with the diplomacy being practiced in the Japanese issue. It has been forgotten now that the United States failed utterly in its original diplomatic mission, which was to preserve the status quo in the Pacific. When Japan invaded Manchuria and began to close the "open door," the United States sustained a stiff diplomatic rebuke. Japan served notice that it wasn't going to be swayed by mere talk.

Nevertheless, except for recent moves of a more belligerent nature, that is all the United States has put in Japan's way—talk. Despite its diplomatic defeat this government continued to practice the art of diplomacy in a situation which called for sterner measures. Those who may now be inclined to blame State Secretary Hull and President Roosevelt for coming a cropper in diplomacy should reflect that the cropper really occurred in 1931 when Mr. Stimson was secretary of state and Herbert Hoover was in the White House. It was then that Japan served notice that the diplomatic phase in its relations with the United States had ended.

PLANES FOR BRIGHTWORK

As everybody knows, when Henry Ford low-priced the automobile into the national necessity class he did it by standardization, which is the starting point of mass production. Ford buyers could have any color they wanted, as long as it was black—any model, but it had to be a coupe or a touring car.

Later, when the era of refinements set in, manufacturers learned that in order to compete successfully for the replacement business they needed at least the illusion of infinite variety. They added brightwork and gadgetry. They discovered, among other things, that if they could sell cars to women, the men had no further choice in the matter. They continued to improve the part of the car that didn't show, and they mentioned this part of their work with pride, but it was the brightwork they counted on to help them sell automobiles—and the gadgetry and the upholstery.

And now has come a war. By an ironic whim, some of the same materials most frequently used to fabricate selling points for automobiles are needed for planes. Instead of guns for butter, which was Germany's slogan, Americans are asked to take planes as a substitute for brightwork. There even is talk of standardizing models, say at coupes and sedans. It is like going back to the early days—almost. Mr. Ford, 78 his last birthday, has ridden a cycle to its starting point, except that black is only one of a dozen standard colors now; he has seen that much progress at least, to say nothing of the planes now using up the brightwork that had to be put on automobiles when the competition began to get tough.

CONGRESS ROLLS ITS OWN

One peculiarity of price control legislation not going unnoticed is the Roosevelt administration's willingness to let congress roll its own bill. Those tailor-made proposals that used to be sent to the capitol for rubber-stamp approval are unheard of now, except in the case of bills dealing with national defense.

Washington correspondents never could be sure where the tailor-mades came from. Conjecture often included the names of Tom Corcoran and Ben Cohen, said to be bill drawers par excellence. There were a few scandalous occasions when congressmen proved so eager to pass laws they didn't even bother to read them first; there hadn't been time to have printed copies struck off.

Explanation for this strange behavior, it is recalled, usually ran like this: The administration knew what it wanted and it had the popular mandate, so congressmen didn't have any freedom of choice anyway. In other words, the reason congressmen are being permitted to blacksmith a price control bill must be because the administration doesn't want the responsibility.

THE STARS SAY:

For Thursday, December 4.

A CONTINUANCE of yesterday's promises for opportunity, progress and personal satisfactions regarding ambitious objectives is indicated by the lunar and mutual aspects of important planets. This good fortune may be expected to expand and solidify under the urge of unusual energy, initiative and determination but it would be well to use sound judgment in the matter of outlay of funds and to refrain from personal extravagances and indulgences. There is an element of the subtle, secret, intriguing, which may prove productive in contacting or making strategic moves with large organizations.

Those whose birthday it is may be assured of a year of definite progress and expansion and solidifying of important projects, with the most cherished ambitions reaching noteworthy performance and satisfaction. Large interests or contacts with major corporations, secret bodies, political or fraternal, may be fostered by shrewdness, sagacity or very clever strategies. But in all shun personal excesses and extravagances, and be prudent in outlay of business funds. Also exercise care with papers, and legal matters. Use tact and diplomacy.

A child born on this day should have a diversity of talents, with much energy and initiative as well as accuracy, subtlety and finesse. It should enjoy exceptional popularity, prestige and success.

ANOTHER TWELVE MONTHS

By DeWITT MacKENZIE.

There seems to be a cautious but growing feeling that the European war may be finished in another twelve months, the latest to venture this thought being New York's Mayor LaGuardia, who told the senate naval affairs committee yesterday that he expected the war to "be over in a year" if this country attained production goals and see that supplies were delivered where needed.

One even higher than his honor gave us a lead on this subject last Saturday night—President Roosevelt with his "little silent prayer" during his belated Thanksgiving dinner at the Georgia Warm Springs foundation. Referring to the folk of the countries at war, he said:

"I think we can offer up a little silent prayer that these people will be able to hold next year a Thanksgiving more like an American Thanksgiving. That is something to dream about, perhaps."

Now I don't know exactly what was in the chief executive's mind, but some thought he was holding out at least a glimmer of hope for an early peace.

We have a Germany in the heart of a continent which is bottled up—almost wholly cut off from the outside world. Continental Europe isn't self-contained, as this column more than once has stressed, and in itself is unable to support a total war such as Herr Hitler is waging.

The strength with which he started is steadily lessening, for lack of replacements. Meantime Britain and her Allies, and the United States with its all-out aid, are growing in striking power by leaps and bounds.

If two and two make four, then the fuhrer must break out of his encirclement to fresh resources.

The Hitlerian army, which has been flinging itself against the gateway to the Caucasus in an effort to break the ring of strangulation, is reported today still to be in rout along the coast of the Sea of Azov. That's one of the most deadly blows that could be dealt the Nazi cause—the turning back of its forces from the highway to fresh resources.

Aids Christmas Seal Drive

Doing her bit for the annual sale of Christmas Seals, Rise Stevens, Metropolitan Opera singer, receives a double-barred cross of carnations from young representatives of three allied countries. The presentation is being made by Barbara Garvey, 11, of Canada, Isabelle Crawford, 8, of Scotland, and Corinne Wong, 9, of China.

OUR READERS

SAVE CITY HALL

Editor, The News: We are very much interested in keeping our present City Hall building, since it holds a very historic position in the history of Salem. As has been stated many times, this edifice has been the scene of various historic meetings, especially during the anti-slavery times.

We cannot feel the building is in a very dangerous condition and believe for a reasonable cost the building could be placed in a safe condition. We fully agree with the state fire marshal that the fire department and jail should be removed to another location. We have for years advocated moving the fire department to either Second st. or Pershing st. We have been very fortunate that our fire trucks did not have to make a hurried run when State st. was two solid rows of automobiles. This condition occurs frequently.

We are of the opinion that if we were to house our fire department elsewhere other than in the City Hall building could be repaired in such a way that the approval of the state fire marshal could be secured. The jail could be located in a fireproof annex in the rear of the present structure.

With the fire department out, the first floor could be used for the offices of the mayor, auditor, water works department, chief of police, and a modern rest room. We feel the state fire marshal would O. K. some such plan and the cost would be nearer what we are able to stand.

The city is in no financial condition to issue bonds to the extent that would be necessary to erect a new City Hall and, anyway, we want to keep this historic building.

Years for preserving our old City Hall.

ONE OF THE OLDER RESIDENTS

SEATTLE, Wash.—Some 150 mountaineers armed with powerful guns and sharp arrows are stalking deer this season in a modern Sherwood forest—a narrow strip of wilderness set aside for archers in central Washington. The area, called the Mad River reserve, is part of the Wenatchee national forest.

COLUMBUS—Mrs. F. L. Fender watched four of her children graduate from Capital university. Then she decided to attend college herself. She and her daughter-in-law are enrolled in the same classes at Capital.

Arrested in Rome

On "suspicion of espionage," Dr. Hiram Gruber Wolf, of Elmira, N. Y., rector of St. Paul's American Protestant Episcopal Church in Rome is held incommunicado by Italian authorities in Rome. Arresting Fascists seized copies of an unofficial bulletin which the United States State Department sends to embassies by radio. Dr. Wolf went to Rome from Berlin a year ago.

IF BABY SWALLOWS OPEN PIN

Get A Surgeon, Is Clendening's Advice

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. All great inventions have their drawbacks. One of the greatest, and one of the most underestimated, human inventions is the safety pin.

But the safety pin has disadvantages. It is more or less all right when it is closed, but when it is open it gives for more trouble.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Even an ordinary pin. Its association in this connection with diapers, underdrawers and socks can be passed by rapidly as merely some of its minor failures. When it really gives trouble in the open position, is when the baby swallows it or sucks it into the throat.

Obviously a Calamity

An open safety pin in the stomach, intestines or wind pipe is obviously a calamity. But man, being an ingenious animal, has been able to compensate for this hazard of the safety pin and surgeons have developed instruments for removing an open safety pin from the trachea or gullet.

Infants of tender years are the largest group of patients subject to the hazard of the open safety pin in the throat. This is perfectly logical due to the almost universal use of the safety pin in dressing infants. In spite of constant admonitions, mothers and nurses continue to leave safety pins open and with unprotected points within easy reach of the baby, whose natural impulse is to put the pin in its mouth. Added to this is the bad example so often set by the mothers themselves in holding such pins in the mouth, with the inevitable result that the youngsters tend to imitate this habit.

Surgically Safe Removals

In a recent surgical report, 825 foreign bodies which were removed from the wind pipe or gullet, 77 were safety pins. All of them, incidentally, were successfully removed, whether open or closed.

On doctor who does this work gets many letters such as the following:

"I was reading your lecture. When my girl was two years old she got a tin whistle in her throat. I was all alone, so took her across my lap and shook and rubbed her. The whistle came across the floor. My doctor said I saved her life. My aunt's brother got a safety pin in his throat open. She took a button hook and saved him. I would do the same thing again to my grandsons today. You have to use what help is near."

"A GRANDMOTHER OF THREE."

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

Sorority Welfare Program For Christmas Is Outlined

Iota chapter of Omega Nu Tau sorority, holding a business meeting Tuesday evening at the Memorial building, made arrangements to provide Christmas gifts of food clothing, and supplies for a family the group has aided for the last two years.

The purchase of food and basket supplies will be in charge of Miss Alice Hertz, president.

Arrangements for the annual Christmas party, tentatively set for Dec. 17, were discussed. The affair will be held at the home of Miss Carolyn Bush on Cleveland st., with Misses Mary Haldeman and Alice Hertz as associate hostesses. "Capsule friends" will be announced for last year and new ones selected.

Final reports of a club benefit held by the chapter last year were given.

Members discussed participation in some Red Cross project after Jan. 1.

Nazis Change Red Rail Gauge

Soviet railroads operate on narrower gauge tracks than Nazi trains so the Germans must re-lay the rails in occupied territory. Here German engineers are shown at work on a Russian railroad at an undisclosed spot behind the fighting line. Many of the falls between German drives are accounted for by this necessary job, the Nazis declare.

Theatre Attractions

Edward G. Robinson, Edward Arnold, Laraine Day, Marsha Hunt and William T. Orr head the cast of "Unholy Partners," which shows at the State tonight and Thursday.

The drama portrays a tabloid editor who is forced to take a gang leader as his business partner and yet fights the rule of the gang ear tooth and nail until one of his reporters is kidnapped to keep him from testifying against the leader. The editor forgets his own connection with the crime tycoon and goes to the aid of his young friend.

Set in the post-Armistice days of New York's history, the story depicts the post-war inflation and prohibition days, the days of the big bull market in Wall Street and the tons of ticker tape showered from the skyscrapers upon returning heroes; of trans-Atlantic flights and flappers; the days which made the era before the crash of the market and the advent of the great depression.

Showing through Saturday at the Grand are two features: "The Gunman from Bodie," a Roush Riders' adventure with Buck Jones, Tim McCoy and Raymond Hatton; and a mystery-adventure, "Elery Queen and the Murder Ring," featuring Ralph Bellamy as the ace crime detector and Margaret Lindsay as his girl friend, Nikkie Porter.

Showing for the last times tonight at the Grand are: "The Gay Falcon," with George Sanders and Wendy Barrie; and "Unexpected Uncle," with Charles Coburn, Ann Shirley and James Craig.

Signing Mexican-U. S. Accord

The beginning of the end of generations of controversy which have marred U. S.-Mexican relations is shown as Secretary of State Cordell Hull (left, seated) and Mexico's ambassador, Francisco Castillo Najera, signed a series of agreements which included a land-claim convention, an agreement to negotiate a trade pact, and an exchange of notes fixing procedure for settlement of the oil expropriations controversy. Ambassador Najera is seated at right.

GERMAN OFFICER IS SHOT IN PARIS

PARIS, Occupied France, Dec. 3.—The German command in Paris announced today that a German medical corps officer had been shot last night in the Boulevard Magenta, and immediately imposed a 6:30 p. m. curfew on the entire tenth arrondissement.

The announcement said the curfew would continue indefinitely and specified that German authorities "reserved the right to take graver measures" later.

Little Too Close

WARREN, O.—Maybe Harry Gibbs should hang out a "Don't disturb" sign at the dinner hour. He told the sheriff:

"We had just sat down when we heard a shot. A bullet crashed through one of the kitchen windows and whizzed over our heads. And no sooner was the hole in the window than a quail flew in."

"I don't care about them hunting around my place—but that's too close."

FORT WAYNE, Ind.—Ward Anderson doesn't know who to trust nowadays. A man stopped him on the highway, told Anderson he was a traffic officer, and asked to see his driver's license. Anderson handed over the billfold containing the card. The man inspected it, then returned it. Later Anderson discovered that $7 had been removed.

AIDS APPOINTED BY YOUNG AMERICA

Committees have been appointed to carry out the program mapped out for the next two weeks by the Salem unit of Young America Wants To Help.

The organization, a junior branch of the British War Relief, coordinates the efforts of school children all over the U. S. to give aid to children in Britain. The appeal to help these children, who are facing the terrors of war, has met with enthusiastic response from the youth of the country.

The Salem unit, headed by the local Junior American Legion auxiliary, asks the people of Salem to help in making their campaign a success.

They plan various sales and are distributing folders for contributions. Cash donations can be left at the Peirless Wall Paper and Paint store.

End of a Canadian Corvette

Canadian authorities have just released these pictures, showing the sinking of H.M.S. Lewis, the first Canadian corvette lost by the Dominion navy as a result of enemy action. The ship was lost with 18 men in the north Atlantic. At top is the damage to her prow. She is being towed by another Canadian man o' war. Towing was abandoned when the Lewis began to sink. Lower pictures show the ship going down, and the last lifeboat to leave the doomed corvette.

Tallest Stack Topples

The huge brick power house stack of the Atlantic Refining Company at Franklin, Pa., topples in a dense cloud of dust as 50 pounds of dynamite is set off. The 76-year-old plant was abandoned four years ago. The stack, 310 feet high and 83 feet in diameter at the base, is believed to have been the largest brick structure of its kind in the United States.

COUNCIL TO HOLD MEETING FRIDAY

Manufacturers and Business Men Are Asked To Attend

Plans suitable for housing the department in one wing and service department rolling stock in the other.

Frank Harris, the owner, gave a price of $29,000. Vincent refused. But the committee feels that the price is reasonable for the value of the property. Anyway, we would be unable to get an option, immediately because the present tenants, under their contract, have the opportunity first.

Up until yesterday, Vincent continued the committee felt that it has the relocation of the jail, but that situation has been changed.

Negotiations were more or less completed for establishing a jail in the rear of the building, which serves the township trustees but second floor tenants of the building have protested on the ground that noisy prisoners would be a nuisance. So that deal is off.

The committee has inspected a number of places, Vincent pointed out, but most of them either lacked sufficient room or didn't permit sufficient manipulation of the big trucks.

Letter Off To Build

So, said Vincent, "it is the opinion of the committee that the city would be better off if it builds a place, rather than pay out a lot of rent and build a place for someone else."

One proposal apparently met with favor during informal discussions. The suggested construction of a building on the east end of the waterworks lot, W. State st. The building would be permanent. It would house the fire department until the city is able to build a new city hall. Then it would be turned over to the city for housing the fire department rolling stock and other equipment.

Receive New Members

W. C. T. U. members meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. William T. Hawkins, N. Lundy st., welcomed two guests and two new members.

Reports were given by the directors of the various departments of activities. Christmas gift exchange was a feature of the afternoon. Lunch was served and the favors were individual Christmas greeting cards.

The Jan. 6 meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. L. L. Park, E. Third st.

Salem Anglers Win Prizes

Two Salem men are listed among five Ohio prize winners in Western Auto's fifth nation-wide big bass fishing contest which ended Sept. 30.

Eugene Yarwood took down second prize with his six pound, 14-ounce large mouth bass. Pete Schell was fourth with a six-pounder. Yarwood receives fishing tackle valued at $30; Schell gets $15 worth. First prize, $40, went to Paul Dobrylovic of Ravenna, whose bass weighed eight pounds, two ounces.

Face Theft Charges

Police Chief Ralph Stoffer returned last night from Cumberland, Md., with Luther Wright and Donald Workman. Salem youths who are charged with stealing a car from the Althouse garage Saturday night.

The pair was taken into custody at Cumberland Sunday after the machine was recovered at Grafton, W. Va., police said. The boys will be given hearings in the mayor's court, probably tonight.

"Big Sisters" Assigned

Miss Nancy Rose of 1318 E. State st., who attends Lake Erie college, Painesville, is one of a group of Lake Erie students who will serve as "big sisters" to girls of a Painesville children's home during the college year. Miss Rose is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Gail A. Rose.

Odd Fellows To Elect

Officers will be elected by Amity lodge No. 124, I. O. O. F., at the regular meeting at 7:45 p. m. Thursday when a class of candidates will receive the first degree. Plans also are being made for the district Odd Fellows meeting at East Palestine Dec. 5, to which the public is invited.

Recent Births

APPEAL FOR UNITY IN WAR EMERGENCY

Knudsen Hits Strikes; Nelson Suggests Steps For Industry

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—William S. Knudsen, co-director general of the Office of Production Management, asserted today before thousands of industrialists that he "can't for the life of me understand how, in a declared unlimited national emergency, such foolishness as strikes 'can go on.'"

An applauding audience, packed into the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria, heard the OPM chieflain declare:
Another Difficult Period
"As to labor we have been through another rather difficult period, with production generally on the upgrade, we have been subject to a test of strikes which culminated in the coal strikes in November, not in most cases for wages or working conditions but the usual demands for closed shops, union shops, preferential shops, or what-not."

"Here we are in a very good position on wages and working conditions in practically every field of industry."

"We have all kinds of work to do and then we have to stop and argue about jurisdictional disputes, organizational disputes, and God knows what."

Donald M. Nelson, executive director of the supply priorities and allocations board, echoed the labor theme when he told the manufacturers:

"If industry must surrender some of its accustomed ways of doing business, so must labor."

He called for labor-management unity based on "strong, self-respecting groups which put the country's needs above their own."

"I believe we can achieve that unity," Nelson said.
"If private enterprise is to survive this emergency, it must do more rather than less than it has done so far on this defense program. The record has been good, but nothing less than the best will do."

Suggests Five Steps

These were some of the steps he suggested industry take to help itself in the emergency:

1. Make sure you have taken every possible step to get materials.
2. Make every effort to get defense contracts your plant can handle.
3. Making sure you are making everything your plant is capable of producing for civilian use, and for which you can get materials.
4. Look for substitutes for scarce materials.
5. Try to use less of scarce materials to produce the same amount of goods.

Toys for British Children

Sally Ferguson, ten-year-old stage actress, is receiving a bouquet from George Woolf of the British War Relief Society's Christmas Gift shop in New York for selling 80 one-dollar gift coupons to members of the cast of "Lady in the Dark," the Gertrude Lawrence play in which she is featured. The proceeds will be used to provide toys for children in England.

DEATHS

MRS. CHARLES WARD

Mrs. Charles Ward, 78, former East Palestine resident and mother of Clarence Ward of Salem, died at 7:30 a. m. Tuesday in the Youngstown South Side hospital of carcinoma after several years' illness.

Born in Steubenville, March 24, 1863, Mrs. Ward was a daughter of the late Richard and Mary Fielding. She lived in Youngstown for two years with her sister, Mrs. Frank G. Shafer, 145 Princeton ave. Mrs. Ward married the late Mr. Ward 25 years ago and was a member of the East Palestine Nazarene church.

She leaves her sister, Mrs. Shafer; three stepsons, Leonard and Roy Ward of East Palestine, and Clarence of Salem; and a step daughter, Mrs. Esther Gorby, of East Palestine.

Interment was made in Union cemetery at Steubenville today, following a service last evening in Youngstown.

JACKSON, Miss.—Cutover field stumps, at one time useless, are being turned into cash in the pockets of Mississippi farmers. Five wood distillation plants are not only clearing lands but paying about $1,125,000 annually for 450,000 tons of dead stumps, to be converted into turpentine, pine oil and rosin.

Golden Monkey Due at Zoo

After a three year search in the wilds of Szechuan Province, China, Ten Hau-han, Chinese hunter of biological specimens and member of the staff of West China University at Chengtu, found the so-called Golden Monkey, considered one of the rarest creatures of the animal world. The animal is slated for delivery to the Bronx Zoo in New York.

East Palestine Rejects Wage Increase Proposal

EAST PALESTINE, Dec. 3.—City council has rejected for the second time in three months an ordinance to give salary increases to elected officials. Acting President E. O. Leake yesterday cast the vote breaking a tie of three yes and three no votes in the ordinance calling for an additional expenditure of about $950 annually.

The vote was: Howard Patton, Chester Whitehouse, Claude Beaman and Leake, no; and James Vocaturo, William Wile and Warren Ashbaugh, yes.

A long discussion preceded the voting when councilmen in favor of the raise attempted to put through a bill for an increase for Mayor Walter Hunston and police one other official. C. F. Adams, industrial leader, and former Mayor W. A. Shasteen urged favor of increase for all elective officials.

Check On Health

IRONTON, Dec. 3.—Seeking general supervision of health and housing conditions, city officials have decided to apply for designation as a defense area in connection with the contemplated construction of a $29,000,000 ammunition plant at nearby South Point.

Furs Are Prized Christmas Gifts

There's Garment For Every
Purse: Muffs, Scarfs
Are Good

That gal Daisy who made good at the top of the Hit Parade had the right idea when she said, "Daddy, you want to get the best for me!" To all would-be purchasers of furs the best advice we can give you is "Buy the best quality of a less expensive fur in preference to a poor quality of an expensive fur."

If there's one thing every woman dreams of the night before Christmas, it's the dazzling thought that—perhaps she'll find a fur coat under the Christmas tree. And this is one year—when all the wishful thinking can be brought to an end—when fur coats can be placed under trees symbolizing this happy holiday.

First, we'd suggest buying furs for defense. In this country's program to build hemisphere co-operation, one of the essentials is to be able to buy Latin American products. We not only help restore the balance of trade and create dollar exchange for the countries of Central and South America, but we can build the strongest possible argument against the totalitarian barter system, in the countries south of the border. So—you can give a fur coat made of pelts imported from Latin American countries—and actually be very patriotic. The furs that come from these countries offer a wide selection—a medium price range new style possibilities—and most important—an immediate way to aid in hemisphere defense.

Furs From South America
The principal furs imported from Latin American countries are: Nutria, Jaguar, Ocelot, Spotted Cat, Pony, South American Otter, Tropical Seal, Zorrino, Guanaco, South American Processed Lamb—and glamorous and rare chinchilla—this fur of course, is the top luxury fur in the world. The drastic change in the fur silhouette—is another reason furs will be welcome as Christmas gifts.

The importance of fur accessories—huge muffs, stoles, capes, hats—is still another suggestion for consideration. (Pocketbooks, too.)

The most popular fur of this season has been Muskrat. Baum marten, sable, and mink blended muskrat leads the field. College girl, career-woman, housewife—all have acclaimed it.

Persian lamb is a close runner-up to muskrat, and mink is still the darling of the luxury class furs. Highlights have been the increased demand for novelty furs. Gray kidskin has become quite important. (Retail for $200 to $350) scarfs, capes and jackets of silver fox have forged ahead.

Winter sports popularity has opened a new field in the lower and medium price fur brackets... the promotion of the fur coat as a sport coat. Wolverine, Blue timber wolf, wolf dyed lynx, Mouton, white curly lamb, raccoon, guanaco, skunk—all sturdy, warm furs would make most acceptable Christmas gifts for the active sportsman.

Persian and Broadtail Paw coats have created much interest.

BROWNWOOD, Tex.—Classes will begin soon at Camp Bowie to teach some 40 officers and men of the U. S. Army's Eighth Corps headquarters one of the most difficult modern languages—Japanese. Because of the complex nature of the Japanese alphabet, the course will deal only with spoken Japanese.

GIFT TOWELS ARE ALWAYS WELCOME

Handsomely packaged gift towels, many of them in decorative boxes which have a re-use value as hat box, knitting box, lingerie or blanket box, are tied with velvet or satin ribbon bows... other practical gift packages with "eye appeal" include enameled wire baskets, wire shelves that may be used later in the bathroom and wooden "treasure" chests.

These all have more lasting appeal than ordinary Christmas holly boxes and are extensively stocked in all stores.

Towels themselves are keyed to the current trend for simplicity in design... contrasting styles, floral colors and high shades, monotonies and two tone combination.

Monogrammed towels are a delight to the recipient. "Mr." and "Mrs.", "His" and "Hers" are fun to give. Complete sets include floor mat, seat cover and matched towels.

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla.—In order to spur home-building in this little Gulf coast fishing town, city commissioners have offered to sell any lot owned by the city for $50 if the purchaser agrees to begin erection of a residence on the property within 90 days and complete it within six months.

Striking Two-Tone Ski Jacket

Striking two-tone ski jacket in cotton poplin. "Zelan" durable repellent finish protects light colors, keeps them fresh.

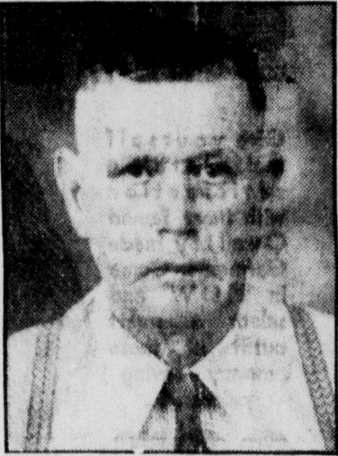

OMAHA, Neb. — In the course of a hearing Judge Herbert Rhodes of the juvenile court remarked: "It's a mistake for a father to attempt to buy clothes for minor children. As a rule, a father will buy a red sweater with the sleeves too long, or outlandish in some respect. Husbands should give the money to the wives to do the shopping. Clothes ordinarily bought by a father for a child will give it an inferiority complex and subject it to ridicule by its playmates."

SAYS IT IS WELL WORTH YOUR TIME TO INQUIRE ABOUT TON JON

Everything He Ate Caused Gas Which Made His Heart Flutter and Made Him Short of Breath. Had a Poor Appetite Which Resulted in Loss of Weight and Strength.

MR. WM. WILLIAMSON

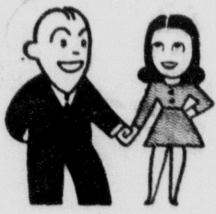

"For a long time I have been troubled with constipation and indigestion," asserts Mr. William Williamson, 124 West 2nd St., East Liverpool, Ohio.

"Everything I ate caused gas and in turn gas caused my heart to flutter and made me short of breath. I had a very poor appetite which resulted in loss of weight and strength. I would become nauseated. Bilious attacks occurred very often and spots before my eyes annoyed me so that sometimes I could hardly do my work. My tongue was always coated and I had offensive breath. About 3 times a week I took laxatives. I had headaches, was very nervous and eventually became dreadfully rundown."

"I had tried many different medicines and treatments but without satisfactory results, then a friend told me about TONJON so I decided to try it. I talked with the TONJON Representative and I immediately began to use this splendid medicine. I am so pleased with the results I have been given by TONJON that I want every one to know that it is well-worth their time to inquire about TONJON."

Thousands endorse the three new and different medicines known as TONJON 1-2-3. Talk to the TONJON Health Representative at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

Brightwork Ban Is Viewed As Aid To Better Design In Automobiles Of Future

DETROIT—The government order stripping 1942 model automobiles of sparkling brightwork after Dec. 15 because of a shortage of certain vital defense materials may prove a blessing rather than a handicap to the industry.

One school of automobile designers believes it will enable them to break away from the "ornamental, Christmas-tree" effect created by shiny trim and concentrate on designing cars of beauty and simplicity unmarred by "illusions."

The order bans use of nickel, chromium, copper or aluminum in non-functional parts of automobiles. This means glittering grilles, shiny hub caps and virtually all other sparkle will be taboo after mid-December. Bumpers and bumper guards will be permitted to retain their luster.

Manufacturers Prepared
The ruling didn't surprise car manufacturers. For some time they have ordered designers and engineers to experiment with paint and plastic substitutes. Painted steel strips for automobile body trim and painted grilles will be used freely.

One of the group applauding the ban on brightwork is George W. Walker, noted Detroit industrial designer, stylist of automobiles and booster of an all-plastic car of the future. He believes the restriction will stimulate design innovation.

"A car of beauty," Walker said, "should be designed so that its own highlights can be accentuated. We shouldn't depend upon a lot of ornaments and tinsel for effect. They only create false illusions. Eight or nine years ago we had little chrome outside of that which was on the car's door handles. We had two-tone painting and the public liked it. There are infinitely more possibilities with three-tone painting. It should be very popular."

One manufacturer, Walker said, experimented with a plasti-gold paint and reported encouraging results. The paint was used on the grille, for strips along the doors, steering wheel parts and for exterior and interior trim. Walker said the use of paints and decorative plastics in the interior of new cars would be a safety feature. Use of chromium for dressing up a car's interior, he said, can be a hazard to safe driving with a bright sun overhead.

Sees All-Plastic Body
Paints which give the effect of chrome, the designer said, usually have had an application of aluminum and consequently they, too, will be taboo after Dec. 15.

Coating the large, once-glittering hub caps with a paint corresponding to body color or accentuated trim color should give a pleasing effect to new car purchasers, according to Walker.

Walker is hopeful that some day car manufacturers will turn to a car with an all-plastic body. However, he believes the trend toward greater use of plastics will be gradual, although it doubtless will be stimulated by the pinch on strategic materials needed for armament production. As a forerunner he has offered an air-conditioned, steel-bodied car with a clear plastic roof. The plastic excludes harmful infra-red rays and permits entrance of healthful violet rays. Air conditioning, he said, eliminates need for movable windows.

ST. LOUIS—William Flori, tavern operator, picks his customers in an effort to get them to pay the Missouri old age pension sales tax. Flori wears a huge sign on his chest, while behind the bar. It reads: "Please pay mill tax—you're getting' old."

ESSEX JUNCTION—Vernant's only woman president of an incorporated village, Mrs. Archie B. Rugg of Essex Junction, took the position after 15 men had turned it down, saying, "somebody has to be president of the village."

Plaid Reversibles, Covert Coats Prove Ideal As Gifts

If you want to make your daughter's eyes sparkle on Christmas morning—surprise her with a new coat. And because she'll wear it long after Christmas is over, it will keep her happy and well dressed for months to come. Prime favorite with the teen age girl is the bright plaid reversible coat with detachable hood. All-weather coats, these reversibles are treated for water-repellency on both the wool and cotton gabardine side. For the more sophisticated teen age miss, pick the cavalry twill boys' coat, fashioned just like her beau's.

Smart for school as they are for "best," these coats have big welt seamed patch pockets, small change pocket, and small collar. For the younger girl, why not a bright plaid raincoat, umbrella and matching hat? These are wonderfully practical as well as being bright and Christmas-y. A simple super gift for wee tots as well as girls is the three piece coat set. Consisting of fitted princess coat, matching bonnet and zip closed leggings, these are Young America's favorites. Many of them are velvet trimmed or if you want to make your daughter feel extra-special, choose hers with fur collar and cuffs.

One of the newest, most practical of these coat sets is the four-piece ensemble. Made of wool, corduroy, it includes a wool coat, corduroy coat — each with matching leggings. Thrifty mothers will like this ensemble too because it can be worn four different ways, as each piece can be interchanged with the other. The new smooth shouldered casual fleece wrap-around coat would make any girl happier on Christmas!

Color plays an important part in these Christmas gift coats and you'll see lots of holly red, wintergreen, rich blue, lots and lots of natural color coats. So to make good little happy girls this Christmas, we suggest a brand new coat!

WEEKLY SEMI-MONTHLY MONTHLY

American People Are Interested In "Wearables" This Christmas!

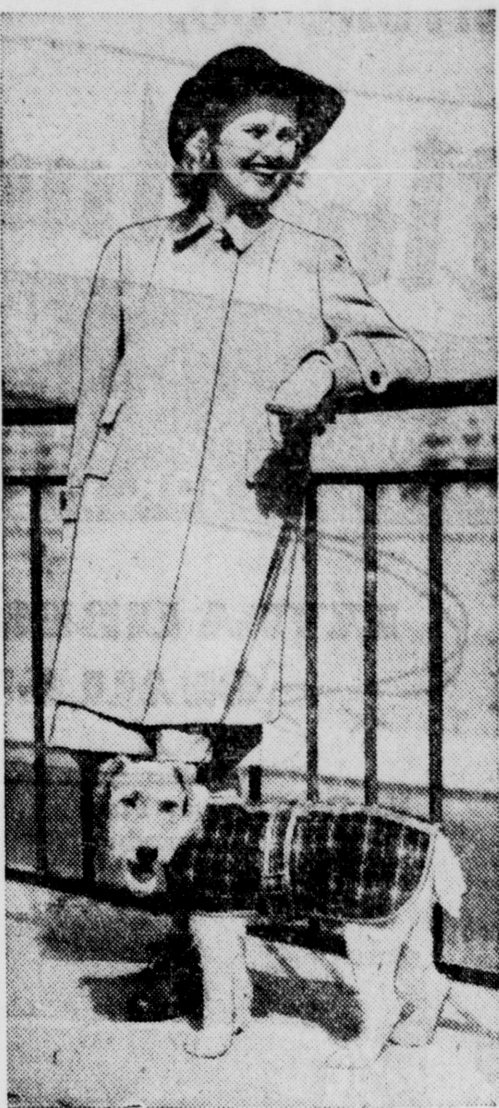

Young America's favorite coat—a Christmas plum! Popular blanket plaid with detachable hood, reversible cotton gabardine lining. Both sides "Aridex" treated for water-repellency, spot resistance. Designed by Hollywood Coat Company.

Once upon a time it was toys, games, dolls and trains that spelled Christmas in big sparkling letters for youngsters. No, so this year! Of course there'll be an abundance of them stacked under the Christmas tree—but there'll be lots and lots of wearable gifts, many more this year than ever before. Because it's wearable gifts that the youngsters are asking for, especially our fashion-conscious teen age girls. They want "wearables" for Winter sports fun, they want jackets and skirts and sweaters and gay accessories and for their luxury gift, they want dainty lacy lingerie. As for winter sportswear gifts, ice skating outfits are what they want most of all, because that's the sport they love best!

Wool Skating Dresses Newest
One-piece wool skating dresses, direct copies of professional skating dresses are newest and prime favorites with the girls who are in the "cutting figure-eight" class... and there are lots of them. Princess style with full flared skirts, these dresses allow for complete freedom of action and they're so graceful for whirling around the ice. Newest in wool, they are also noted in velveteen, corduroy and wool jersey in vivid red, blues, wine tones as well as black. Many show vivid border or applique hemlines or hemlines faced with contrasting colors. These too are most popular in corduroy, velveteen, wool and wool jersey. Practical part about these skating dresses and skating jacket and skirt outfits, they can be worn smartly to class and then on to the skating rink.

Peasant Sweaters Newest for Girls
Nothing better than sweaters for a girl's Christmas—and nothing brighter or more Christmassy than a peasant sweater! In button front cardigan and pullover styles, these show vivid peasant embroidery, pom-poms, brightly piped necklines and cuffs. The teen age girl wants one of the new Argyle sweaters—the newest sweater fashion of the year.

Super Christmas gift for juniors! "Gal-a-Bout" cavalry twill coat perfect for school wear. Treated with "Aridex," it is water repellent, spot and stain resistant. Designed by Manchester Modes, New York.

Christmas Is Time For Games At Home

Mothers, fathers, aunts, uncles and cousins usually participate at some time or other during the holidays in the games that sister and brother receive from Santa Claus. So we find the staple "board" games, dominoes, checkers, pinball, chess, checkers, "Bingo" and "Parchesi" still good.

Football Board Games Popular
Boys and girls are exceptionally keen about baseball and football board games. An all star baseball game of this type features big league stars playing their own regular positions on the field. The game was designed by a former Giant baseball star.

Dart Games, steady year round interest in toy, adult game and sports goods departments are exceptionally good at Christmas. These have appeal for young and old. Many of them have double face with a baseball game on reverse side.

Old Games Modernized
Among the old-time games which have been modernized is a fishing game with colored metal fish, fish poles with magnets and "frying pans."

Card games of all kinds make the gifts and other old-time numbers are all available in adult game and toy departments.

A table top bowling game introduced early this year is a dollar number which appeals to all those who want to "bowl" right on top of the bridge table.

"Treasure Hunt" is a favorite party game which comes attractively packaged.

Approximately 36,000 civilians were killed in air raids in England from June, 1940, to April, 1941. During a comparable ten-month period in the United States, Christmas seal funds are our "home defense" against tuberculosis.

Christmas seal funds place in the hands of millions each month information regarding direct methods of prevention, cure and treatment. Education is still one of the chief weapons against the disease.

Heads Poetry Group

Sister Madeleva
Woman to be elected president of the Catholic Poetry Society of America since it was founded in 1911 is Sister Madeleva, C.S.C., President of St. Mary's College, Cross, Ind., and noted lecturer on poetry. She becomes the first nun to lead this group.

No more propitious time than America to protect itself against tuberculosis, according to Dr. Thomas Parran, surgeon general, U. S. Public Health service.

THE GOLDEN EAGLE

Costume Jewelry Is Sparkling Gift

"For Christmas 1941 a gift of costume jewelry will have an intrinsic as well as aesthetic value," says Charlotte, well-known stylist and designer.

"Heretofore, we have considered costume jewelry solely as an adjunct to the outfit with which it was worn. It has had fashion value—yes, but we have given little or no consideration to the material of which it was made or their actual value."

"Today, all that is changed. The glittering stones and intricately-wrought metals that we accepted so casually in the past may be the heirlooms of the future. Just as the hob-nail glass bottles and old pewter mugs that our ancestors stuffed away in New England attics have become collectors' items. Not because the particular piece of glass or pewter was so valuable at the time it was fashioned, but because its counterpart in style and workmanship cannot be procured today."

"So it is with costume jewelry. The war in Europe and our own mighty defense effort are resulting in scarcities and shortages of many materials. The finely-cut stones used in the loveliest costume jewelry are increasingly difficult to procure and certain metals may also disappear from costume jewelry counters soon. Well selected costume jewelry gives lasting enjoyment."

The National Tuberculosis Association and its nearly 2,000 affiliated organizations is the largest non-governmental organization to fight one disease in this country. The Christmas seal sale is the sole support of these organizations.

Education is still our chief weapon against tuberculosis. Science has not yet found a drug for cure or immunization. Christmas seal funds pay for health information put in the hands of the people each month.

BLOOMBERG'S

Young Men In Camp Will Appreciate Usable Gifts

Men have always appreciated useful gifts more than trick gadgets that are usually put away in a bureau drawer and promptly forgotten.

And in selecting gifts for those in the armed forces it is particularly important that you bear in mind the change of environment; the desire for "convenience gifts"; for gifts they can actually use now.

Your reporter has made a survey and found that our local stores have given a lot of attention to the problem and that the choice of gifts is varied enough for anyone's taste.

In fact most of the stores have special displays to simplify your shopping.

Most Popular Gifts
Since most soldiers and sailors have a sweet tooth, cookies and cakes, candies, preserves and jellies, canned foods and delicacies, assorted nuts and other edibles are among the most popular gifts. Naturally such day to day necessities as cigarettes, smoking tobacco, toilet articles, and writing materials are always welcomed.

Many stores are showing gift boxes including special assortments and combinations of the above items at special prices. You can not go wrong with such popular gifts.

"Convenience" Gifts
High appreciation will be shown by the recipient for one of the many "convenience" gifts that will come in particularly handy. Our check-up showed the following gifts of this type as most appropriate: portable radio, camera, dressing robe, leather toilet kit, electric iron, wrist watch, moose-skin scout knife, flashlight, clamping lamp, shoeshine kit, pliofilm clothing bags, first aid kit.

Other Gifts Noted
One store is very smartly playing up books as the ideal gift for soldiers and sailors and then we noted in the same store a display that included miscellaneous leather gifts of all descriptions. Photo albums are popular as are such prosaic things as woven name tapes, sewing kits, playing card and chip sets, comb and brush sets, memo pads, serving kits.

Photos Particularly Welcomed
In talking with several boys on leave the other day, one said the best gift of all would be a photo of the girl friend, as well as a member of the family.

In talking with one of our local boys on leave the other day, he remarked that every fellow at his camp would treasure a photo in a "snappy" frame of his best girl. So girls, this is a special tip for you. Wearable gifts, too, are gifts that men at camp really welcome. Many stores feature a complete line of such gifts suitable for service men.

TULSA, Okla.—Mrs. Ivan J. Singleton was giving her young son, Jerry, a bath when the child complained of being scratched. Mrs. Singleton found something embedded in a bar of soap. It was a tiny paper note with these type-written words: "Hell Hitler." The note was turned over to police, who were bailed in their investigation because Mrs. Singleton couldn't remember the brand of the soap.

REYKJAVIK — Icelanders now are getting their snuff from Kentucky instead of Denmark. The supply of the popular Copenhagen snuff was cut off entirely after the German occupation of Denmark. The Icelanders, very fond of the tobacco product, began importing Kentucky tobacco and now manufacture between three and four tons of snuff each month.

JACKSON, Miss.—Over eighty-seven per cent of Mississippi's dwelling houses, including urban, houses, are in need of major repairs or have no private bath, according to figures compiled by the 1940 Census of Housing.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE —

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour 2 pints of bile juice into your bowels every day. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Then gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these 2 pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Get a package today. Take as directed. Effective in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills, 10¢ and 25¢.

HANDBAGS WILL MAKE IDEAL GIFTS FOR YOUNG AND OLD

There's a Merry Christmas "in the bag" when the giver remembers handbags for young and old. There are plushy little bags, in muff or animal shapes, for the little miss who found pennies in

GOT CHANGE FOR A PENNY?

Sounds funny, eh? Yet when it comes to electricity you can do lots of things for fractions of pennies—such as clean a rug or wash clothes, make coffee or toast, enjoy a radio program or refrigerate your food for quite a spell. How much do you spend per day for electricity? Then divide it by all the uses and see what a bargain it is.

Bargain Day for Electricity

While prices of some things have gone up, that's not true of electricity. Cheap electricity is still your best bargain. Do you know, for example, that five pennies worth of electricity will do the weekly washing for the average size family? Use your electrical service to save in many ways.

OHIO EDISON CO.

the toe of her stocking, and needs a purse for her wealth. Other "little girl" delights are miniatures of grown-up handbags, complete with slide fasteners, and pocket mirrors, in either fabric or leather. For old sister, there are plaids and pigskins, wools, and wenders in smooth leathers that borrow their colors from Christmas itself—holly red and brightest green. Grown-up gift lists, for sister, mother, aunt or sweetheart, can be checked off with a minimum of fuss and worry, at any smart handbag counter. Muff bags in fur fabric, or coating fabric trimmed with fur, are a welcome gift for most any woman. Leather bags, with multiple-compartments, and a generous sprinkling of zipper-pockets, are a delight to older women—particularly those who take their budgeting seriously. And for lighter moments, the assortment of evening bags is dazzling, and quite the answer for Her gift—in glitter versions of rhinestones or sequins; and lovely heirloom types in tapestry or metallic fabrics.

Black Magic

Black Magic to delight her Christmas morning. A sculptured black jersey slip from Vanity Fair, lavishly bordered with sheer lace.

SEATTLE, Wash. — Thirty-nine years ago Justice of the Peace Guy B. Knott, then a Madison, Minn., printer, left his watch at a jewelry store, forgot it and moved to Seattle. A Madison friend recently advised him he could have the watch if he paid the repair bill. He paid, and got it.

The United States is gradually being freed from tuberculosis. In 30 years the death rate has been cut by 75 per cent. Christmas seals have helped to finance these victories.

ALL GIFTS CHEERFULLY BOXED!

For Youngsters

YOUNGSTERS WANT "WEARABLES" this Christmas. Four-way ensemble of wooly cloth and corduroy. Treated with "Aridex" water repellent to shed rain, non-oily spots. By Mariana Gini Coat Corp., New York.

Spun Rayon, Cotton On Smart-Set Tables

Linen departments are brimming over with gift suggestions. Tablecloths for breakfast, luncheon or dinner, boxed separately or with matching napkins. . . . Beautifully printed cottons, spun rayon and cotton or all spun rayon as well as a limited variety of linen.

Designs have never been more fascinating. . . . in addition to striking colorful floral patterns, highlighting the field Daisy, Hibiscus, Rose, Crocus and other flowers in all over and border designs, there are gay fruit, gourd and foliage designs which show Mexican and South American influence.

Pennsylvania Dutch influence, regency designs and conventional patterns which show the growing trend for Pennsylvania Dutch influence in decoration are highlighted in the wide assortment of tablecloths, napkins and sets found in linen departments and gift shops. . . . These are practical and wanted gifts for the home whether it be a one-room apartment for a bachelor girl in the city or a large family home in the country.

Among the more distinctive luncheon cloths are some made of Pepperell sheeting in blue, raspberry or turquoise with white vegetable print. . . . strawberry printed percale is another novel printed cloth, which also has matching kitchen towels.

Beauvais embroidery adorns some of the more formal luncheon and dinner sets made of cotton poplin, spun rayon and sheer organdy. Colors include delicate pastels and white, majority with contrasting color embroidery.

Kitchen towels take on gift appeal when they flaunt gay multi-color floral designs, colorful fruit or vegetable designs in fast color prints to harmonize with kitchen furnishings. . . . Two toned or herringbone stripes are among the attractively packaged gifts of kitchen towels.

Most of the decorative kitchen towels are part linen or all cotton. These are gradually replacing the fine linen towels.

Embroidered and appliqued cotton kitchen towels feature designs of fruit, vegetables, kitchen utensils, etc., to harmonize with kitchen or pantry hangings.

Striped Canvas Luggage Found At Popular Prices; Gifts Suitable For Every Purse

No matter whether your Christmas budget is bursting with dollars or already badly overstrained, you'll find a gift for everyone on your list in the luggage department of the local stores.

Matched luggage sets are always popular in the inexpensive price group. You'll find hand-wearing striped canvas luggage in sizes varying from overnight cases to wardrobe trunks, reinforced at the necessary points with genuine saddle leather or cowhide. Two or three of these make a most impressive gift.

Also in the inexpensive price range is a new type of luggage, made of a material which appears to be rawhide, without the costliness of that rich leather! This new material can stand a terrific amount of abuse, which is certainly what we look for in luggage. You'll find the same sizes available, all priced to please.

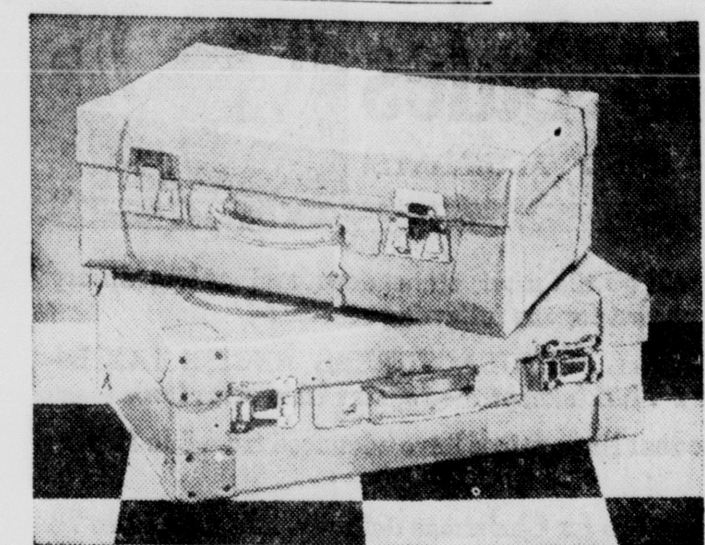

For that great American institution—traveling by automobile, the stores are showing new wedge-shaped luggage designed to fit the luggage compartment of your car. This does away with waste space, and each piece is tapered to really fit.

Being scuffproof and roughproof, it makes it even more difficult to resist.

Lightweight Gift Luggage
Heavy luggage can spoil most of the fun of traveling, so harken while we tell of the virtues of some new lightweight, streamlined canvas luggage. Apply called "magic carpet bags," this trimly-styled luggage is bound with tan cowhide or the smart new olive drab. A fine example of "modern design!"

Luggage For Every Age
What lovely lady's heart wouldn't quicken at the sight of one of the new handsomely fitted beauty cases! There's a gleaming glass or plastic container for every one of her beautifiers. You'll find them in a wide range of delectable colors, and in leathers real or simulated. Fine for the girls from 16 to 60.

For the boys in training, what could be more appropriate than the new "furlough" bag. This is really a two-in-one bag, with room for folded clothing in a separate compartment underneath the regular packing area. An added feature is two oil-silk lined pockets for carrying toilet articles. Very slick, says we, and fine for Dad, as well. Little sister will behave beautifully when your beau comes to call if you tempt her with one of the shiny new steel carry-all for roller or ice skates. She can bang it, dent it, but she can't break it!

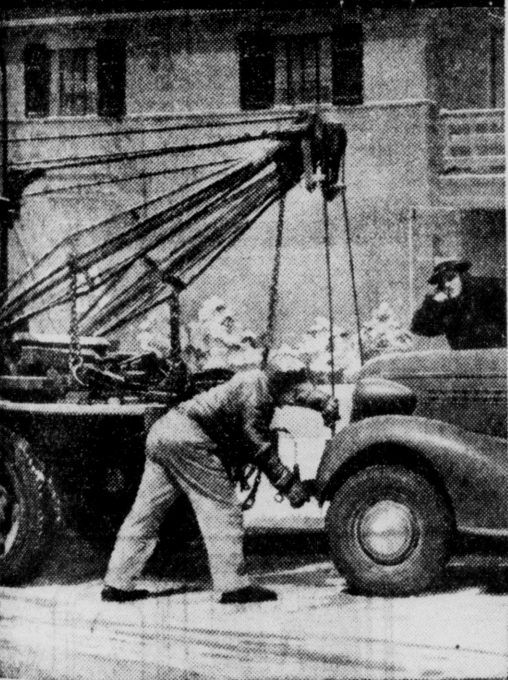

Blonde beauties for Christmas gift giving are these two solid leather topgrain cases from the line of Barrow, Hepburn and Gale, Ltd. Photo courtesy: Luggage and leather goods handbag buyer.

Here's a double gift from Santa Claus... a new combination bill fold and key case, with extra compartments for hidden loot. Photo courtesy: Luggage and leather goods handbag buyer.

Only Sohio "YOU START or WE PAY!" SOHIO Says:

NEW PLASTIC TOYS SHOWN IN VARIETY

Modern plastics are gradually taking the place of other materials in toyland and this Christmas we find plastics on everything from the coating on stuffed cotton fabric animals to the propellers on toy airplanes.

Because of the Sanitary, lightweight, durable and colorful features of plastic toys they have gained unusually popularity in a comparatively short time.

Games of all kinds feature bakelite or other plastic parts or counters... educational toys keyed for children of various ages have bead necklaces, rattles, transparent plastic balls, teething beads and small wheel toys. Plastic sand molds and scoops for playing in the sand pile.

Scale model freight cars with plastic sides, American and other Soldiers made of plastics and boat sets in variety are gifts suitable for the young boy... those who are air-minded or who have airplane building as a hobby will like the plastic propellers and plane construction sets.

Persons who want anything, know The News is the Want Medium in this vicinity. So read it.

REAL NEWS! — JUST IN TIME FOR CHRISTMAS!

FINLEY'S Advance Christmas Sales

SALE STARTS THURSDAY, DEC. 4 (9 A. M.) — ENDS WED., DEC. 24 (8:00 P. M.) — 18 BIG VALUE DAYS!

We have been very busy for months planning and arranging for our Annual Christmas Sale. This "gala" event will be the most stupendous and extraordinary sale of our 18 years in business and now we offer you right at the Yuletide Season, outstanding and extraordinary values, for the following reasons:—

- FIRST—Seventy percent of the merchandise on our floor was purchased and delivered to us before the FEDERAL MANUFACTURERS' EXCISE TAX became effective on October 1st. This alone means a great savings to you as this stock is not SUBJECT TO ANY TAX (except the regular Ohio sales tax).
- SECOND—Merchandise offered in this sale was purchased last spring at JANUARY, 1941, PRICES and since that time, prices have advanced from 8 to 15 percent, which means an extra saving to you!
- THIRD—You can purchase any merchandise DURING THIS SALE, make a small deposit, will hold any merchandise for Christmas delivery, and take 52 to 78 weeks, or 1½ years to pay the balance after delivery.
- FOURTH—THE QUALITY of this MERCHANDISE cannot be duplicated now due to the strict priorities now enforced! BUT, YOU WILL HAVE TO ACT QUICKLY, if you want to take advantage of this opportunity, as positively none of this merchandise offered at this SALE can be replaced and sold for anywhere near the prices we are offering them for during this ADVANCE CHRISTMAS SALE!
- BUY NOW AND SAVE ON PIANOS, RADIOS, MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS, ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS, WASHERS, IRONERS, SWEEPERS, FOOD MIXERS AND LAMPS AT THE FINLEY MUSIC COMPANY, 132 SOUTH BROADWAY, SALEM, OHIO

Imagine your daughter seated at this Beautiful Spinet Piano playing your favorite song —she can, if you will only take advantage of our Christmas Special!

Sportswear Makes Ideal Male Gift; New Items Inspired By Winter Sports

Skiing, skating, tobogganing, and other outdoor sports are going to be more popular than ever this season according to reliable authorities. If "Your Man" is an active sports enthusiast, then your Christmas gift problem is really simplified.

Many reasons account for this increased interest—railroads are adding bigger and easier-to-catch schedules; department stores are dramatizing skiing by fine ski shops, offering preliminary instructions to rookies and setting up ski slides; ski magazines are really getting down-to-earth information and snow trail news.

But perhaps the biggest single reason is the wealth of really functional ski clothes to fit just about any pocketbook. Ski clothes are now scientifically designed for maximum comfort and freedom of action in keeping with the warmth-without-weight demand. Feather-weight, wind resistant cotton fabrics of closely woven construction are treated with "Zelan" durable repellent finish to keep the wearer dry from snow spray and spills. This fine water repellent finish makes light colors practical. Garments stay cleaner and new-looking longer. But your clothes can be tubbed or dry cleaned, depending upon their construction, as often as need be.

There are a host of styles in interesting fabrics to choose from with all the important trappings—suspenders, button loops, action backs, pivot sleeves, carry straps, etc. You might choose a reversible, a two-toned model, or one of the new longer jackets. There are the convertible ones, too, with shirred elastic waists, with "skirts" which snap up for extra warmth, or down, for added hip protection. Ski skirts are also important. These slip on easily over a warm sweater or shirt and tuck into the ski trousers. Colors for men are still rather classic—tan, blues, browns, greens and natural, but nice effects are achieved by reversibles, two-toned styles and bright accessories. Quite gay knitted sweaters and mitts will be seen, and matching or contrasting poplin gloves and peak caps. Knitted head bands are good for keeping ears warm and plenty of new goggles and eyeshields are being shown.

So—pack up your troubles, snow men, and ski!

Parka of light weight cotton poplin treated with du Pont "Zelan" durable repellent for lasting weather protection, resistance to non-oily spots and perspiration. Courtesy—Congress Sportswear.

CHEHALIS, Wash.—Mrs. Ethelyn Dehlin, Onalaska, owns a document from His Majesty King George VI of England, which she values highly. It offers appreciation for Mrs. Dehlin's composition, "The Victor's Song," now being published.

DURANGO, Calif.—Perhaps the automobile is here to stay, but western horses and cattle are just in on ten great laboratories in tough enough to think otherwise.

Over a period of two days there were three automobile-livestock collisions near here. Damage to the cars was estimated at $16.00. The horse and two cows involved walked away from the accident.

Christmas seals provide the funds for a highly organized program of medical research, which is now going on in ten great laboratories in this country.

LITTLE CHATS ON PUBLIC NOTICES

By J. E. Pollard, Journalism Professor,
Ohio State University

Deterrent Publicity

By and large, public officials and employees are as honest as the communities they represent. As a matter of fact, honesty in office or in public employment is now the accepted thing and serious irregularities are relatively rare. This is particularly true in the handling of public funds.

It is not so many years since graft and corruption were far more widespread than the worst disclosures in recent times. The notorious Tweed Ring in New York was a case in point. Nor is it so very long since it was the lawful practice for a treasurer, or custodian of public monies, to keep any interest accruing on such funds for himself. But times have changed and standards of official honesty along with them.

One factor in this particular improvement has been the Public Notice laws which, in one form or another, have required the periodic publication of financial reports covering public funds. In principle this is done to acquaint the public with information about its own affairs. In practice, however, it has had the added result of boosting official honesty through the deterrent effect of widespread publicity of such notices in the form of legal advertising in the press. Many of the lapses that still occur here and there might be prevented if existing laws were amended to require more frequent inspection and more complete publicity regarding the public funds concerned.

(Copyright, 1941, by J. E. Pollard)

KENNA, N. M.—Carrying a powerful, long-range rifle, G. H. Thurman drove 150 miles to the mountains to go deer hunting. His young son and another boy wandered to the outskirts of Kenna carrying small 22-caliber rifles. The boys returned home with two huge deer. Thurman came home empty handed. He refused to be quoted.

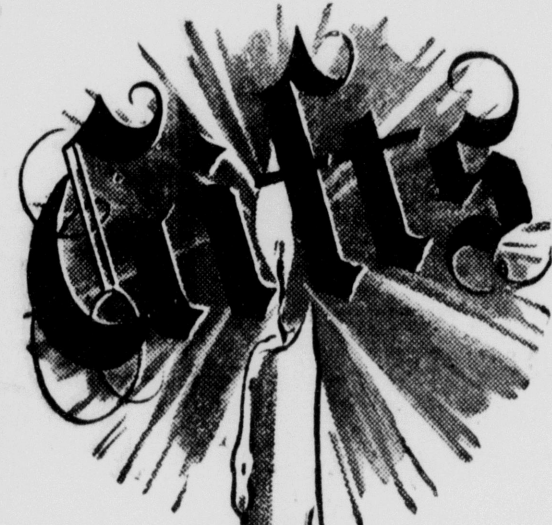

... WE'LL HELP YOU AVOID TROUBLE!

That old saying, "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure," fits in well with winter driving. So, if you're planning a trip over the holidays, why not stop in here first and make sure your car is in proper condition!

Badge Of Honor Is Presented

CHAPTER TWENTY

Gale slipped her dress over her head and glanced at herself in the mirror. "Colburn the mystery! Colburn the all-powerful! Colburn the great! He works in many and strange ways. No wonder he's a by-word with those who want legislation passed—or killed!"

Nan said nothing, hardly hearing Gale. She was looking out the window into the past and thinking how Colburn had come into his power, how she and others had helped him.

"Nan," Gale began a hypothetical question, "if you were me and I had inherited quite a wad of money, what would you do with it?"

"I'd get so far away from this place and legislature that it would take me years to get back, if I ever got the idea I'd like to come." Nan was definite about that.

Gale continued with her make-believe thinking that the voice of experience was guiding her, and wondering if she shouldn't take the suggestion and just chuck everything.

"Why did you ask? Has someone let you a wad?"

"Yes," and when Nan asked no more questions, Gale did not amplify her answer.

When they entered the den together, Colburn struggled up out of his chair and started them both with this remark: "I wouldn't trade you two for all the men I know."

It wasn't like Colburn to pay compliments. It was apparent that he wanted something done that he felt money alone could not provide, so he was paying an extra dividend to them.

"You've got another think coming then."

Colburn murmured something—so softly that the words themselves could not be heard. Then he declared aloud: "I don't know why it is women always fall in love at the wrong time and with the wrong people." He glanced quickly at Nan and then looked away.

Evidently, Colburn had had Nan in a like spot once, Gale thought, and she was right. Nan had listened to Colburn and love had flown out the window.

"I'll bet if you had a date with Joe Nash he'd try to find out from you all you knew about the Murray bill," Colburn said. "He wouldn't let his personal feelings interfere with his sense of duty to his employer."

"You're wrong, Sir Cedric!" Gale's temper was rising, and with it came the touch of sarcasm. "Cut out the Sir Cedric business! I know what I'm talking about, and I'm willing to back up my belief with cash."

"How much cash?" Gale was still using that nasty tone.

"I'll bet you $500 against a dollar that if you have a date with Nash he'll ask you about Murray's bill, the visit of the Attorney General and a lot of other things connected with it," Colburn said. "It's a bet!" Gale snapped. "Five hundred to one are tempting odds on anything."

Colburn's smile was one of triumph, so obviously so that it irritated Gale.

"How will you know whether or not he tries to give me the third degree?" Gale asked, and she smiled back at him, a smile that contained no mirth.

"Because you'll tell me the truth."

"How do you know I will?"

"I'll take your word for it and on that alone accept the dollar or pay off."

Gale knew she couldn't reply to that except in the one way she did: "I accept the challenge."

"Phone him now," Colburn ordered, "and just chatter with him."

likes to lead the kind of life he can here. But the girl is another story. Frankly, I don't know just how to begin with her."

The three discussed ways and means of handling the girl, and it was decided that Nan should start by having a weekend party and somehow manage to keep Marie with her for a few days at least.

"Now, Gale," Colburn began, "I've a job for you that ought to be to your liking, inasmuch as you think so much of Joe Nash."

Gale's eyes opened wide, but she said nothing.

"I want you to find out what, if anything, is planned on the Murray bill."

"Not," The word popped out. Colburn's mouth smiled, but his eyes took on a penetrating look, and he continued as though he hadn't been interrupted. "I want you to find out how much Marie has told him during the time she's been trying to move you out of the picture."

"Not," Gale's jaw set solidly. "Don't say no," Colburn's voice was firm but friendly. "I know how you feel about that guy and I know he wanted you to go to work for him, and I know that you are, or were, a little bit in love with him, but that's got nothing to do with this."

Gale did not deny she loved Nash. "No," she said for the third time, and when Colburn did not go on, she added: "I've been willing to do most anything for you, but Nash it out. I won't try to pump him. Just what do you think I am, anyway?"

"I think you're a sensible girl and you'll do what I ask."

"You've got another think coming then."

Colburn murmured something—so softly that the words themselves could not be heard. Then he declared aloud: "I don't know why it is women always fall in love at the wrong time and with the wrong people." He glanced quickly at Nan and then looked away.

Evidently, Colburn had had Nan in a like spot once, Gale thought, and she was right. Nan had listened to Colburn and love had flown out the window.

Gale knew she couldn't reply to that except in the one way she did: "I accept the challenge."

"Phone him now," Colburn ordered, "and just chatter with him."

He'll ask for a date."

So Gale went to the telephone, wishing that Joe wouldn't invite her, yet hoping that he would.

"Gale!" There was joy in Joe's voice when he discovered who had called him. I've been thinking of you all day and wondering if I had been forgiven."

"Of course, you've been forgiven," she said, and hated herself for saying it.

"Then, how about tonight? A quiet little dinner, any place you say, maybe a dance or two and a ride?"

"All right. At my apartment at seven. Goodbye," Gale hung up. She wondered if she was letting her heart in for some real trouble.

Back in her apartment, Gale had a foreboding. A dark cloud hung over her; there was something amiss, something she couldn't put her finger on something that made her for the moment despise herself.

Suddenly she knew what it was: Sweethearts don't bet on what their loved ones will do or say, and they don't tell outsiders afterwards what has been done or said. The answer to that must be, she thought, that she really didn't love Joe Nash after all. She was fond of him, yes, but not in love.

With that thought settled, Gale began dressing for her date, and planning her future with fifty thousand dollars and — without Joe Nash.

She was in China when she chose a dress for the evening's wear. She was in India when she tried it on, decided against it and picked another one. The moonlight of a Venetian canal shone in her eyes as she zipped up her gown.

Nowhere in the moving picture of her mind was Joe Nash. He was just another man at that moment, just an amusing companion, better looking and nicer than most, but just another man after all.

She still held this thought but her heart bounded when she opened the door.

There stood Joe Nash before her! Her dreams vanished; the curtain had come down on her mind-movie.

Nash was so tall, so handsome, so much like a Viking. All the aloofness that had developed between them was gone. He was there and he was the man she wanted above all men.

Colds' Coughing

Here's Easy Time-Tested Way To Get Relief

Get after those distressing spells of coughing and ease misery of the cold the widely used Vicks VapoRub. Boil some water. Pour it into a bowl. Add a good spoonful of Vicks VapoRub. Then breathe in the steaming medicinal vapors. With every breath you take VapoRub's medication soothes irritation, quiets coughing, helps clear head and breathing passages. FOR ADDED RELIEF. At bedtime rub Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest and back. Its poultice-vapor action works to bring you comfort while you sleep.

Rehearsal for N. Y. Air Blitz

New York City's air raid wardens are shown battling fires started by "incendiary bombs," during a test of civilian defenses in Union Square, generally a stamping ground for verbal bombs. More than 44,500 members of civilian defense units participated.

Exciting Moments

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Mrs. Minnie Herron, 59, walking across Pigeon creek on a Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad trestle, looked back and saw a train coming.

She lay down flat on the ties, was knocked dangling beneath two of them and then was sucked by the air brakes up between the first and second drive wheels.

Seventy minutes later rescuers extricated her—unhurt except for some scratches on her knees.

He'll Find Out

CAMP BLANDING, Fla.—Sergeant Cunner Stokes of Company H, 167th Infantry, tells how a private came up to him brandishing a piece of leafy vine.

"What kind of plant is this, sergeant?" he inquired.

"My gosh, that's poison ivy," the sergeant yelled.

Back come the bland response:

"Well, don't get excited, I'm not going to eat it."

LARAMIE, Wyo.—Some hunter got John Larson's goat. Larson was inspecting his goat herd when he heard a shot. He looked up in time to see an automobile speeding away. The nimrod—apparently, fleeing after discovering his error—had mistaken one of Larson's well-bred goats for deer.

Salem High Meets Ravenna, Victor Over Akron Central, Friday

STARTING LINEUP STILL DOUBTFUL AS OPENER NEARS

Brown Hopes to Find Right Combination Today In Scrimmage

Salem High's cagers will open their 1941-42 campaign with an invasion of Ravenna, 26-25, co-conqueror of Akron Central, Friday night.

The Ravens are weak at several positions and expect to have only an average squad this year despite the fact that three lettermen have returned from last year's team. Gene DeAngelis, Jack Gregory and Bill Trochilo.

To replace those boys taken by graduation, Coach Carl Spassard has delved into his reserve material and come up with three boys who look like they might have the stuff to play varsity ball. One of them, McBee, scored six points in last night's win over Akron Central, and Casely, and another boy up from the reserves, came through with five markers.

Trochilo paced the attack against Central, dropping nine tallies through the netting but it remained for Gene DeAngelis to enact the principal role. With only 30 seconds remaining in the game, he was fouled by an overzealous Central player. DeAngelis calmly tossed the ball through the hoop to break a 25-25 tie and give the Ravens the ball game.

Coach Herb Brown is taking his charges to New Waterford tonight for a practice scrimmage with the New Waterford team. He hopes to be able to pick his starting five after that scrimmage is over. Brown is still doubtful about the brand of ball some of his proteges are displaying although they looked good in practice last night.

Friday's game will be the second for Ravenna, the first for the locals.

If Brown finds the right combination at New Waterford, the Salamites should, however, give a good account of themselves.

SPORT CHATTER

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
(Wide World Sports Columnist)

NEW YORK, Dec. 3. (Wide World) — Everybody's glad to see Mel Ott get the job of managing the Giants, but most of the boys figure it won't do the club a lot of good. General idea is that Bill Terry will keep on running things, with Mel merely handling the team on the field. At any rate, it gives Master Melvin another record. He never has played with any other club. Funny thing about it is that Terry has been so anxious to move into the front office while smart baseball men agree that where he excels is on the firing line. The Pirates have cooed off on the idea of trading Arky Vaughan because they're afraid they'll lose Frankie Gustine in the army draft. Brass ring dept.: Before the World Series, Whitey Lewis of the Cleveland News predicted that Slapnicka would be bounced. Peckinpah would get his job and Boudreau would be elected Cleveland manager.

Today's Guest Star

Tommy Fitzgerald, Louisville Courier-Journal: "Frankie Kovacs says amateur tennis stinks. Well after all, a tennis bum is around."

First news on the draft hitting a service team comes from Fort Knox (Ky.) where the Knockers' star back, Bud Bruner, was discharged from the army just before the big game against Louisville's Crescent Hill Club.

Plug Paragraph

Bowl-picking champ among the eight Sioux Falls (S.D.) people who tried to call 'em for this dept. is Vernon Crangle, who put four teams in the right bowls. Praise via mail comes for broadcaster Tommy O'Brien of Beaumont, Texas, the only forecaster to pick the Texas Aggies to win the southwest conference championship, for Xavier (Cincinnati) and Marshall (W. Va.) as candidates for the Sun Bowl (Another guy suggests Texas A. and I. vs. Hardin-Simmons).

One-Minute Sports Page

Mello Bettina, a greatly improved fighter after his coast-to-coast tour, will take on Gus Doazio in Philadelphia and Lee Savold in Washington before coming home to fight a top-rank heavyweight under Mike Jacobs' banner. Hank Greenberg provided some entertainment for the boys at Fort Custer the other day by asking the camp paper what he could do about reporters on his return to civilian life. Best answer would be another question: What would he do without them?

SCOTT'S BLUFF, Neb. — The world is pretty big after all in the opinion of Mrs. O. L. Haine, 59, and Mrs. Myrtle Brown, 58, sisters who met recently for the first time in 38 years although they lived within 50 miles of each other. Mrs. Haine said the last time she saw her sister was at the funeral of their father at Lynn, Kas., in September, 1902.

Jiggs IV, latest in a line of famous mascots of United States Marine Corps named for George McManus' "Bringing Up Father" comic strip character, looks his best for a reason. He's been promoted to sergeant, and is wearing his new chevrons at the Marine Base, Quantico, Va. Jiggs IV is formally enrolled in the Corps. He has a service record, a health record bearing his paw prints and dental history, and has official quarters. He does have a beef about his pay: He's paid off in beef.

BOWLING RESULTS

"Diz" Reese held the spotlight in the National league last night as he pounded out 637 to help Grates take three games from the Sanitary five on the Masonic alleys. Reese had games of 200, 210 and 227.

In the only other match of the evening the Masons took two from Salem China. The other four teams had postponed their matches.

In the Mullins league on the Grates alleys last night the Inspection five won three from the Office force to retain its lead while the Press department took three from the Tryouts to keep its second berth.

The Finishers remained in third place by trouncing the Tubs twice but the Cabinets tied them by virtue of three wins over Tool and Die. The Enamellers moved into fifth on three wins over the Cost department which dropped from fourth to sixth.

Employment stopped the Wing-ters twice, Standards won two from Production and General Stores topped the Cutting department twice.

SHOTTON, MELILLO HIRED TO ASSIST PILOT BOUDREAU

Coaches Added to Indians' Board of Strategy; Susce Stays

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Dec. 3.—The Cleveland Indians' department of brains and strategy now presents a remarkable picture of being prepared for practically anything, short of torpedoes.

Burt Shotton, whose age is 57 and whose experience is broad enough to cover managerial jobs in the majors and minors, was named an Indian coach late yesterday along with Ol' Os' Melillo, who at 33 is making a trek back to the tepee after leaving when Oscar Vitt was banished. They replace Earl Whitehill and Dutch Zwilling, but George Susce remains.

Starting from the top, that gives Cleveland a man in the front office who in two separate terms has managed the team—Lou Boudreau. A coach who was loyal to Vitt in the unpleasantness of 1940, in which Boudreau had no part—Melillo; a coach whose Columbus team won the Little World Series last season and whose specialty is handling rookies—Shotton; and the coach and bull-pen catcher who shepherds pitchers—Susce.

This cluster of variegated talent around Boudreau seems to fit in with his announced desire to have coaching assistance handy when he is busy in the field, and it also may provide a hint that rookies fit largely into the Indian scheme of things.

Shotton took a bunch of rookies and moulded them into a team that won the American Association pennant last season, and then went on to grab the Little World Series from Montreal of the International league.

He was an outfielder for 14 years, five with the Cardinals, eight with the Browns and one with Washington. From 1928 to 1933 he managed the Philadelphia Phillies. After serving the next year as coach with the Cincinnati Reds, he managed Rochester in 1935 and moved to Columbus in 1936.

NEGLIGEEES MAKE EXCITING GIFTS

Frivolous or Discreet — The Colors Make Them Lovely

Negligees and housecoats make gracious, personal gifts for all the family, except the male contingent — and they will approve gifts of robes or smoking jackets to don when they shed the cares of the day.

Negligees can be frivolous or discreetly tailored, it's the colors and fabrics that make them lovely. Gleaming satins are flattering in soft tones, and glowy in jewel tones — crepes with hand finish or lace trims favor pastels, except in black, when the lace is dyed-to-match — velvet is gorgeous in color, and sophisticated in black. Reversible negligees make doubly-welcome gifts, and are particularly appealing in satin with pink on one side, and blue on the other; or black on one side and pastel or turquoise on the other. Either way you look at it, it's a good gift idea!

Wool Housecoats Have Glamour

Warmer negligees or housecoats in sheer wools or rayon pile fabrics, put glamour on a practical basis, and do an equally efficient job of flattery and warmth. Here again color scores, in white that looks like ermine, and pastels that look good enough to eat. Darker colors take on new beauty, too, in these fabrics that have depth to show them off.

Tailored robes that pinch-hit as housecoats, are also on the warm side — in flannels with cheerful color values, and plaids with spirited gaiety. They're fitted or wrap-around, with belts or princess waistlines — and buttons or zippers to tuck you in.

So whether the gift problem be for "something luxurious," or "something practical," there's a negligee, a housecoat or a robe to solve it promptly, and with a warmth of enthusiasm!

Prices to Please All

Housecoats and hostess gowns have practically limitless gift possibilities — with prices to suit every purse. Printed cotton housecoats, in peppy patterns, are a boon to the hostess for informal entertaining, and a joy to wear in steam-heated apartments. They make "just right" gifts, at modest cost. Sumptuous fabrics, such as silks and satins, are elegant in tailored housecoats for more formal wear, and wonderful Christmas gifts to show off during holiday entertaining, to start the year right. Silks and satins with lace, beading, or even furry accents are luxury lovelies that will make wife proud of her husband (if he gives her one) — and any husband proud of his wife (when she wears it). Velvet dramatizes even the simplest housecoat, and positively glorifies the dressier types, with shirring and draperies, voluminous sleeves and perhaps just the barest suggestion of a train? The velvet

At home for the holidays, she'll want to lounge in these new Miss Swank pajamas as well as sleep in them. Man-tailored with long cuffed sleeves or feminine with matching embroidered bed-jacket.

versions are usually "hostess gowns" — and so they should be, for the "perfect" hostess and the perfect gift!

Housecoats and hostess gowns with bifurcated skirts are a nice compromise with lounging pajamas having the casual charm of pajamas, plus the flowing grace of skirt fullness. They're full of originality, for the "woman who has everything," and full of prestige for the giver.

They won't fit into the Christmas stocking, but negligees, housecoats or robes will fit into any Christmas list — and stocks will soar as a result! And don't forget, there are robes for little brother and little sister, too — and robes for dad and big brother. Go to town with your Christmas list, and "go to town" all the way down to the very last name — with robes for all, for a robust Merry Christmas!

Tuberculosis knows no boundaries of race, income, age or sex. There is only one barrier tuberculosis does not cross — that of good social health. Christmas seal funds help build this barrier.

PROBLEMS FACING FORESTRY SERVICE

Surveys Being Set Up To Determine Lumber Availability

MILWAUKEE, Wis. — Defense needs and an expanding market for all forest products are creating new problems for the U. S. Forest Service, according to H. Basil Wales, chief of timber management and of defense planning in Region 9.

Consequently, Wales announces that surveys are being set up in his Milwaukee office to determine the availability of timber for airplane construction, munitions crating and fuel.

Officials anxiously await the outcome of the survey of yellow birch which is used as a veneer for the wings of training planes. The investigation will answer the important question of how long the existing stands can supply the demand without being destroyed.

Yellow Birch Decreasing

Wales warns that there will be no yellow birch available for airplane wings in 20 years if the present rate of cutting on private land continues. He explains that most of the birch and hardwood stands are privately owned and that some degree of control by the forest service is desirable to keep them in production.

On the other hand, Wales points out, jack pine is plentiful in the northern lake forests. Although it has not been used for crating munitions, it is similar to wood in demand for that purpose. If manufacturers decide to use jack pine, the timber manager says that the national forest timber sales business will be expanded through sales of standing timber to small mills. They will cut the logs into lumber suitable for the production of munition boxes.

Wood for Munitions

Wales predicts that jack pine may be used in the actual manufacture of munitions, pointing out that England has used a wood cellulose base for explosives for several years.

The fast-growing jack pine currently is in demand for pulp. With Scandinavian supplies shut off, American forests are the only source. Wales reports that one Minnesota company is feeding 1,000 cords of wood, or 100 acres of standing trees, into its machines each day.

Region 9 sold 136,365,000 board feet of timber from its national forests during the fiscal year of 1941, an increase of 22,000,000 board feet over the previous year. Wales discloses that the cash return was about 40 per cent of the total received from commercial timber sales since the region was created in 1929.

Are you considering joining a MILITARY SERVICE?

Why not choose the NAVAL RESERVE!

AN IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT by the Secretary of the Navy

"All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active Navy duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Frank Knox
SECRETARY OF THE NAVY

HERE IS THE OPPORTUNITY THAT THOUSANDS OF MEN HAVE BEEN LOOKING FOR

There is your opportunity to have all the advantages and privileges of Navy life but with a shorter enlistment.

Many men do not realize—but it is a fact—that your pay, your training, and your chances for advancement in the Naval Reserve are exactly the same as in the Navy itself.

FREE TRAINING WORTH $1500

Take your own case. Let's assume that you have had no special training. In that case here is your opportunity to learn one of the Navy's 45 big-pay trades, from aviation engineering to radio. You may receive training worth $1500 the first year alone. In addition you get all the advantages listed in the second column of this announcement.

HIGHER PAY OPPORTUNITIES

But perhaps you have had special training or know a trade. In that case the Naval Reserve offers you the opportunity to use your knowledge. If you qualify (high school or college not necessary), you can join as a petty officer right away—with higher pay and allowances.

Also, if you have two or more years of college credits, there are special opportunities to become a Naval aviator or a commissioned officer.

LOOK WHAT THE U. S. NAVAL RESERVE OFFERS YOU

FREE TRAINING worth $1500. Nearly 50 trades and vocations to choose from.

GOOD PAY with regular increases. You may earn up to $126 a month.

EACH YEAR you are entitled to a generous vacation period, with full pay.

GOOD FOOD and plenty of it.

FREE CLOTHING. A complete outfit of clothing when you first enlist. (Over $100 worth.)

FREE MEDICAL CARE, including regular dental attention.

FINEST SPORTS and entertainment any man could ask for.

TRAVEL, ADVENTURE, THRILLS—You can't beat the Navy for them!

BECOME AN OFFICER. Many can work for an appointment to the Naval Academy or the Annapolis of the Air at Pensacola.

FUTURE SUCCESS. It's easy for Navy trained men to get good-paying jobs in civil life.

In any case, it is your chance of a lifetime to lead a healthy, exciting life... your chance to travel... and at the same time build a solid foundation for your future. There is nothing better than modern Navy Training for a successful career in civil life.

Get this FREE booklet

Mail coupon for your free copy of "Life in the U. S. Navy" 24 pages, fully illustrated. It answers all your questions. Tells what your pay will be... promotions and vacations you can expect... how you can retire on a life income. Describes how you can learn any one of 45 big-pay trades from aviation to radio... how many may become officers. 27 scenes from Navy life showing sports and games you may play, ships you may be assigned to, exciting ports you may visit. Out our way...It's Chesterfield

Out on the range
it's "Howdy pardner, have a Chesterfield"
That's true Western hospitality.

For bringing smokers together, giving them exactly what they want, Chesterfield's RIGHT COMBINATION of the world's best cigarette tobaccos is right at the top.

There is more downright pleasure in Chesterfield's COOL MILDNESS and BETTER TASTE than in anything else you ever smoked.
